Famous Fundraisers

United tees up with Tinseltown elite to raise money at the 2007 Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation Celebrity Golf Classic.

ASIDE FROM SUPERSTARDOM, WHAT DO SHARON Stone, James Caan, Joe Pesci, and Sylvester Stallone have in common? They each dedicate their time and talent to help fight pediatric AIDS. In October, United teamed up with these famous cohosts and other top celebrities to raise money for the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation.

Celebrity golfers who participated in the sold-out affair, held at the Lakeside Golf Club in Burbank, California, included Billy Crystal, Peter Gallagher, Sugar Ray Leonard, Kyle MacLachlan, and Chris O'Donnell. Among the coveted items auctioned off by Stone (above) were first-class tickets donated by United, the foundation's official airline and an event sponsor. The foundation also is a longtime member of United's Mileage Plus Charity Miles Program, which enables customers to donate miles in support of the foundation's global health programs.

The Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation seeks to prevent pediatric HIV infection and to eradicate pediatric AIDS through research, prevention, and treatment programs. In total, the Celebrity Golf Classic has raised more than $4.7 million to support lifesaving programs for children and families around the world. ### Giving You the World, Nonstop

New routes, destinations, and nonstop flights give passengers a world of options. Beginning this fall, let United take you to even more global destinations—nonstop. In late October, United relaunched service from LA to Hong Kong, a key financial center and one of Asia's most popular destinations. And this spring, exclusively on United, travelers will be able to fly nonstop between San Francisco and Guangzhou, China. For European travelers, on December 15 the airline will begin offering eight daily nonstop flights to Frankfurt, Germany, which is now served by four of our international gateways, including LA, the newest hub to serve Frankfurt. Also, October 28 marked the beginning of seasonal nonstop service between Washington's Dulles International Airport and top tourist destination Rio de Janeiro. With these additions, United now serves 22 international destinations nonstop from Dulles, 12 from San Francisco, and nine from LA. Visit united.com for more details.

Our Customer Commitment / United recently updated "Our Customer Commitment," a renewed pledge to customers that each day, in the air and on the ground, we will strive to provide you with the best possible experience—particularly during travel disruptions. Read about these commitments, including helpful hints and details, at united.com/commitment.
